

Stamp Auctions, Fairs and Exhibitions

Many clubs run stamp auctions, markets, stamp days or open days. Whatever they are called, they provide the opportunity for you to look for items to add to your collection.

Stamp exhibitions are organised by clubs or by state philatelic councils and include competitive displays of stamps and other philatelic material. In addition, they usually include a good range of dealers. National and international stamp exhibitions are held much less frequently, but are well worth attending when you see them advertised. They usually have a great range of world class exhibits and many stamp dealers attend.

Information on stamps

Many clubs have a library, which might consist only of a few catalogues and some magazines, or it may have a large and extensive collection of early books on stamps as well as magazines up to 100 years old or more!

Displaying your stamps

Stamp clubs also provide you with a chance to share your pleasure in your collection with others. This can range from an informal talk at your local club to showing off your "gems" through local, state, national and international exhibitions.

Circuit Books

Most clubs have circuit books which contain stamps that members of the club are seeking to sell. Many collectors join stamp clubs primarily for access to the circuit books, which enable them to sell their duplicate stamps as well as to buy stamps at reasonable prices.

Specialised Clubs

In addition to local stamp clubs there are many specialised groups that can help you enjoy new collecting interests. These include clubs for collectors of air mails, postal history, coins, postmarks, picture postcards, postal stationery, and ephemera. There are also clubs for collectors of particular countries like colonial South Australia and the Australian Commonwealth.

Costs of being a member

One of the great benefits of being a member of a stamp club is that it costs so little. Even the most expensive club or society can cost less than $1 a week, with many costing considerably less. The savings you will make on stamps, books and accessories will more than repay the cost of joining a stamp club.

Other Benefits

The pleasures and friendships that you will get from joining a stamp club will last a lifetime and are quite simply – priceless.

The Western Australian Philatelic Council Inc. (WAPC) helps to coordinate the activities and promotion of the hobby of stamp collecting within Western Australia.

The Council meets monthly; its members represent philatelic societies, stamp clubs, stamp dealers and interested individuals.

The objectives of the WAPC include:

- Bringing into accord the aims and activities of all stamp clubs and philatelic societies in WA; promoting good fellowship and mutual cooperation.
- Giving assistance to philatelic organisations through the provision of finance and supply of display frames.
- Protecting the interests of philatelic groups and their members by providing state-wide Public and Product Liability Insurance for the clubs and Volunteer Workers Insurance for the members.
- Encouraging and supporting the formation of new philatelic groups. Providing advice and materials for this purpose, on request.
- Raising finances in order to promote and foster stamp collecting.
- Liaising with Australia Post and the philatelic trade for the benefit of stamp collectors.
- Representing the interests of organised philately, positively and effectively, to community and government organisations.

WHY JOIN A STAMP CLUB?

“Stamp clubs put the life into your hobby!”

If you collect stamps then you cannot afford not to be a member of a stamp club! Stamp clubs provide their members with the opportunity to meet with like-minded people and to share information about their hobby. They are also a great source of stamps for your collection.

Many collectors hesitate before visiting a stamp club because they may regard themselves as ‘only beginners’ or for other reasons. No need to think this way. All members of stamp clubs were beginners at one time. Stamp clubs are full of people from all walks of life who, just like you, enjoy collecting.

The members of stamp clubs cover the full spectrum of stamp collectors, from those who collect the latest new issues to those who have only very limited stamp budgets through to those who exhibit at national exhibitions. All value the benefits of membership in their stamp clubs and the friendships and contacts they bring.

What can a Stamp Club provide?

Most stamp clubs offer:

- an opportunity to obtain stamps at reasonable prices through their circuit books and auctions
- displays or visiting speakers
- newsletters or magazines
- access to catalogues and books on stamps

But above all, stamp clubs offer the friendship, knowledge and experience of their members who can help you with advice on all aspects of collecting including:

- identifying stamps
- where to get stamps
- storing and housing your collection
- ideas on new collecting areas
- latest news on fairs, auctions, and exhibitions.
